FOUNDERS

Open Society Foundation for Albania (OSFA) - Soros: Faithful to its mission of creating and consolidating an open society in Albania, OSFA has expanded its capacities. In addition to its work in supporting civil society and democratic developments in Albania, it is undertaking new types of work in the area of business development in cooperation with other international donors.

Harry T. Fultz Institute: Established in 1921, the Harry T. Fultz Institute is an independent, reputable technical academic institution comprised of a high school and a community college focusing on electronics, information technology (IT) and business management disciplines.

OFICINA works through partnerships with the private sector, local government, academia, community organizations and outstanding leaders and innovators to establish an agile, open, and collaborative environment. Our vision is to support Albania's economic diversification by nurturing highly skilled human and intellectual capital.
